TERMS AND CONDITIONS

9 DELIVERY

9.1 Delivery relies on prompt receipt of all payments, forms and proofs. It is the Buyer's responsibility to send/return these in good time.

9.2 The Seller aims to dispatch an order 20 working days from receipt of the final proof. The Consumer Rights Act states that legally there is a default delivery period of 30 days during which the Seller needs to deliver the goods to the Buyer unless the Buyer has been notified of a longer timescale. If the Goods are not delivered within this time, a full refund will be given.

9.3 No specific delivery date can be agreed unless in writing from the Seller.

9.4 The Seller shall use its reasonable endeavours to meet any (non default) date agreed for delivery. In any event that delivery shall not be made by the agreed date the Seller shall not be liable for any losses, costs, damages or expenses incurred by the Buyer or any third-party arising directly or indirectly out of any failure to meet said delivery date.

9.5 The Seller is not responsible for delayed delivery due to circumstances beyond our control such as postal strikes or postal errors. If the Seller is aware of a problem the Buyer will be contacted immediately.

9.6 Delivery of the Goods shall be made to the Buyer's address specified on the order form and the order confirmation email. The Buyer shall make all the arrangements necessary to take delivery of the Goods whenever they are tendered for delivery. Once the first delivery attempt has been made, redelivery of the Goods is the responsibility of the Buyer. The Seller is not liable for any costs incurred if the Buyer is not able to take delivery at the time any delivery attempts are made.

9.7 The Consumer Rights Act means the Seller is responsible for the condition of the goods until the goods are received by the Buyer, or by someone else you have nominated to receive them on their behalf. If the Goods arrived damaged, the Buyer is entitled to replacements only. These goods must be returned to the Seller, postage costs will be covered by the Seller.

10 CANCELLATION AND RETURNS

10.1 The Buyer shall inspect the Goods immediately upon receipt and shall notify the Seller by email within 48 hours of delivery if the Goods are damaged or do not comply with any of the Contract. If the Buyer fails to do so the Buyer shall be deemed to have accepted the Goods.

10.2 Where a claim of defect is made the Goods shall be returned by the Buyer to the Seller. The Buyer shall be entitled to replacements or a full refund (including delivery costs) plus any return postal charges if the Goods are in fact defective.

10.3 The order placed by the Buyer will be prepared and produced by the Seller based on the information written on the order form, it is solely the Buyer's responsibility to order correctly. No refunds or reprints will be made if items produced are not as required but are as ordered.

10.4 As the Seller will commence work straight away the legal '14 day cooling off period' is waived by the Buyer, unless the Buyer informs the Seller in writing to not start the work until after the 14 days. The Buyer still has the right to cancel within these 14 days, but the Buyer must pay for the value of the work that is provided up to the point of cancellation.

10.5 If the Buyer cancels the order any time after the 14 days cooling off period, the Buyer will not be entitled to a refund of any monies paid.

10.6 If there is a breach of contract – i.e. failure by one party to do what the contract requires them to do, either side may cancel the order, with no future liabilities.

10.7 By law and the 'Distance selling legislation' any item that hasn't been personalised, made to order or changed to fit the Buyers requirements, can be returned to the Seller within a 'cooling off' period of 7 days. The Buyer must inform the Seller in writing before sending the item back, the item must be returned to the Seller in the same condition as was received, postal costs are to be covered by the Buyer. The Seller will refund monies paid for the returned item. Complaints must be sent in writing to info@withloveweddinginvitations.co.uk or sent to the postal address as below.
